Those who suffer from chronic back pain and headaches know that it can disrupt the enjoyment and productivity of daily life. Healthcare professionals and industrial designers have worked hard to develop new technologies that can help alleviate many of these problems. The ObusULTRAforme chair with Moller back support system: The back is composed of three natural curves. Ideally these curves form an "S" shape. Maintaining this "S" shape is imperative to avoiding pain and injury over time. Unlike most back support devices, the ObusULTRAforme with Moller back support system is a scientifically designed device that encourages this correct alignment.
