Adjustment knob for lumbar depth

The Indulge Seating Series automatically adjusts so that no matter how you sit, the chair will always be in contact with your back, offering both full support and freedom of movement.

The Indulge chair features Global's True Response support technology incorporating flexible polymer bushings mounted at the lumbar area that enables the backrest to follow the users body movement.

Indulge also offers an adjustable Schukra Lumbar Support, activated by a control knob on the side of the chair to increase or decrease lumbar depth.

The combination of True Response and Schukra Lumbar Support offers a wide range of adjustment and control to suit any body type or personal preference.
